3 Simple Rules Of Marital Disharmony

By

Tej K. Zadoo, India.

In Indian society marriage is considered to be the most sacred institution. Marriage is a sacrament and not an institution for brute sense gratification. Everyone be it a male or a female desire for a happy married life. But when we observe the present times it is seen that many marriages fail. These marriages are a failure even though the horoscopes of the two partners have been properly matched.

In the present article we look into the combinations in a horoscope that indicate that the native can have a disturbed marital life and then use other astrological rules to confirm whether he or she will be separated/ divorced from his or her partner.

In this context we refer to what the great astrologer Sh.H.N. Katve¹ has said in regard to marriage and its stability :

"Sun and Mars should be studied when predicting about the husband of a woman.

- From Sun the longevity, education, status, direction from which he comes and the love he gives to the woman should be predicted.
- From Mars one should predict about the power, energy, enthusiasm, respect, profession, rise etc. of the husband.
- If Sun is afflicted by Saturn then husband may be much elder to the woman, may be weak, diseased and cruel. But my observations are different. In such a case marriage is delayed. At the time of marriage the father of the girl is poor or marriage takes place after his death. But the husband is young and loves his wife.
- If Mars is afflicted by Saturn, by conjunction, being square to Saturn, being 2nd or 12th from Saturn or if Saturn is in 4th or 8th from Mars then bad results like widowhood, separation, negation of progeny etc should be expected."

Giving due credit to Sh. H.N.Katve, we postulate as follows :

Rule A

a) If in a horoscope Mars is afflicted by Saturn then the native is likely to be prone to major problems in his/her married life.

Here affliction means that

- (1) Mars and Saturn are in conjunction
- (2) Mars is under the aspect of Saturn
- (3) Saturn is in 2nd or 12th from Mars
- (4) Mars is 4th, 6th or 8th from Saturn.

So the first thing an astrologer will check whether Saturn and Mars have any type of relation as postulated above. If there is a relation then the married life of native may be unhappy.

Whether there will be divorce or separation, we will check the following two aspects of a nativity :

For life partner one has to study both the UpPada and second from it. Refer to the 4th chapter of 'Jaimini Sutras'.

" Tatra Papasya Papyogey Pravarijya Daarnaasho Va." Sutra 2

(If on UpPada or second from it there is an aspect, conjunction or position of a malefic, then native is a Sanyasi or his wife dies.)

" Neechay Daar Nasha" Sutra 5

(If a Neecha planet is posited in UpPada or in second from it then the native loses his wife.)

"Rahu Sanibhyam Apvaad Tyago Nasho Va " Sutra 12

(If Saturn and Rahu influence the UpPada or second from it then native deserts his wife due to 'lok Apvaad').

" Sukra Ketubhyaam Rukht Pradrah" Sutra 13

(If UpPada or second from it has Venus or Ketu or their aspect the wife of the native suffers from 'Leucorrhoea'.)

Thus we can conclude that UpPada and the second house from it should be studied for the welfare of the partner.²

Thus the second step will be to check the Jaimini UpPada³. Here we consider the 12th lord from Lagna for calculating the UpPada and also check the second house from the UpPada.

Rule B

b) If the UpPada and/or second house from the UpPada is afflicted by a malefic by being posited there or by aspect then there will be complete marital disharmony leading to divorce/ separation.

Here Ketu, Saturn, Mars, Sun and Rahu are taken as malefics. Rahu and Ketu are aspecting 5th and 9th houses from them.

A few words about Pada and UpPada.⁴

The general principal for finding the Pada of a house is to find the Rasi where lord of a house is posited. The Pada of that house will be so many Rasis distant from that lord as the lord is from the Rasi signifying the house.

There are some exceptions⁵;

- i) When any house lord falls in same house, then 10th house from the house under consideration is the Pada for that house.

² "Jaimini Sutram" by Dr. Suresh Chandra Mishra, Ranjan Publications. New Delhi.

⁴ "Morphology of the pada Asc." By Dr. Suresh Chandra Mishra, SA Magazine, Prepublication article of Vol 9 of SA magazine.

⁵ The exceptional rules are those given by Sh. UK.Jha in his article "Arudha and its Evaluation". SA Magazine, Pre publication article in Vol 9.

- ii) If any house lord falls in 4th from the house, consider the 4th itself as the Pada for the house in question.
- iii) If the lord of the house falls in 7th house then consider 4th house (and not the 1st house) as Pada.
- iv) If the lord of the house falls in 10th house consider the 10th itself as the Pada and not the 7th.

- 7th house is the house of marriage.
- 12th house is the house of bed pleasures.

For studying the stability of the marriage we will have to study these two houses.

We postulate the rules for Step C

Rule C

c) In SarvaAshtakVarga (SAV) chart if the 7th house and / OR the 12th house have less than twenty five bindus (benefic dots) then there will be divorce/separation.⁶

So for marital disharmony these three rules a, b and c should be studied.

Before we illustrate the above rules by some examples a word of caution. Astrology is meant to help a native and not to discourage him. If an astrologer on checking a chart comes to the conclusion that the native has a possibility of a failed marriage, it is astrologers duty to warn the native and guide him or her how to overcome the shortcomings and flaws in his/her nature so that he/she can lead a happy married life. Besides he/she should be advised to marry only after proper matching of his/her horoscope by a competent astrologer. Remedial measures should be prescribed, and he/she should be told that surrender to mother Goddess TripurSunadri is a panacea for all evils. If properly advised and if proper measures are taken then the native will enjoy a blissful married life.

The rules given above give an indication that a particular native can have major problems in marriage. In real life the chart of the partner will play a major role, and even though one or other chart may show problems, the two charts if properly matched will complement each other and the duo will lead a blissful married life. It is here where astrology comes to the help of a native.

Rule A Sub 3: Saturn is in 2nd or 12th from Mars

- Saturn in 4th house and Mars in 5th house, the two are DwirDwadush i.e in 2nd and 12th from each other. Thus the native is prone to major problems in her married life. (Rule 'a' is satisfied).

Rule B

b) If the UpPada and/or second house from the UpPada is afflicted by a malefic by being posited there or by aspect then there will be complete marital disharmony leading to divorce/ separation.

- 12th is Gemini (Mithun). 12th lord Mercury is in 8th house, which is 9th house from 12th house. 9th house from position of 12th lord is the 4th house, which becomes the UpPada. This house has Saturn posited therein.
- 2nd from UpPada is 5th house, in which a natural malefic Mars is posited. Both UpPada and second from it are under malefic influence So the Rule 'b' is satisfied. Now let us look at the SarvaAshtakVarga chart of the native.

Rule C

c) In SarvaAshtakVarga (SAV) chart if the 7th house and / OR the 12th house have less than twenty five bindus (benefic dots) then there will be divorce/separation.

As both condition 'b' and 'c' are satisfied, the native will get separated from her husband.

The native is married and has two daughters. Husband is not working and the two are separated.⁷

aspecting Saturn.

Rule B

b) If the UpPada and/or second house from the UpPada is afflicted by a malefic by being posited there or by aspect then there will be complete marital disharmony leading to divorce/ separation.

- 12th lord Mercury is placed in 9th house, i.e. 10 houses displaced from the 12th house. UpPada will be the 10th itself.
- It contains Ketu and second from it contains Sun. Condition 'b' is satisfied.

If we use the rule given by Dr. Suresh Chandra Mishra which states that when the lord of a house is in 10th from it then UpPada will be 4th house from that house. Then UpPada will be the 3rd house. This house contains Rahu and is aspected by Mars. No malefic influence on second from UpPada. Rule 'b' is satisfied. Other school says that when house lord is in 10th from it then 10th house from the lord is the UpPada. In such a case 6th is UpPada which has Saturn in it. 2nd from UpPada is 7th house, which is aspected by Mars (8th aspect) and Rahu (5th aspect). Condition 'b' is satisfied.

Now we study the SarvaAshtakVarga chart.

Rule B

b) If the UpPada and/or second house from the UpPada is afflicted by a malefic by being posited there or by aspect then there will be complete marital disharmony leading to divorce/ separation.

- 12th lord Mars is in 2nd house i.e. 3rd house from 12th house. 3rd from Mars i.e. 4th house will be the UpPada. There is no malefic influence on the UpPada.
- 2nd from UpPada is the 5th house which is under the aspect of Saturn and Sun, Condition 'b' is satisfied.

The marriage of the native is very successful. Is it because UpPada has Moon placed in its own rasi aspected by Jupiter and lord of the second from UpPada Sun is exalted?

Above we have discussed some female charts. Now we discuss some male charts.

Conclusions:

In the above illustrations it is seen that an adverse relationship between Mars and Saturn is a potential threat for marital harmony. Again the number of bindus in 7th and 12th play a crucial role. In above examples it is only in two cases that this condition is not fulfilled. The UpPada and the second house from the UpPada is also an indicator for marital disharmony.
